

PERMACULTURE WEEKEND

at

LOST VALLEY EDUCATIONAL CENTER

July 30, 31, August 1, 1993

INTRO TO PERMACULTURE:

A sustainable and integrated design system that promotes people taking responsibility for creating ecologically balanced and agriculturally productive environments.

CHISEL PLOWING

A method for working with clay soils and hard pan that increases water infiltration, soil aeration and productivity.

PERMACULTURE GARDEN DESIGN

Garden layout, microclimates and soil amendments to enhance productivity, and water conservation. Methods to increase diversity and health of your garden.

Course includes:

two nights camping or dormitories, lectures and demonstrations, hands-on experience, wonderful woodland setting, all meals included

COST: $70.00

Course Instructor: Guy Baldwin

Founding editor of Permaculture Activist, Permaculture Designer and Consultant, Project Manager for Keyline Demonstration in California. Co-manager of Tawani Organic Farms, Marysville, CA

FOR MORE INFORMATION AND BROCHURE, CALL OR WRITE:

James Wynn or Amani Carroccio

LVEC, 81868 Lost Valley Lane, Dexter, OR 97431. (503) 937-3351